Katherine Albrecht holds a Doctorate in Education \(Ed.D.\) in Human Development and Psychology from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Her research focused on Consumer Education and Privacy issues.

In 2010, Katherine was diagnosed with stage 4 cancer, which had spread throughout her lymph nodes. Katherine is an extremely fact-oriented researcher, and when her doctor prescribed chemotherapy, Katherine looked into chemo, and the many natural alternatives to chemo. She chose to undergo chemotherapy.

As her immune system was destroyed, as happens in chemotherapy, her husband began researching natural therapies to restore immune function for people undergoing chemo. The product above, extracted from the coriolus mushroom, restored Katherine's immune function and made chemotherapy bearable. Katherine's oncologist declared that since the supplement was a food, Katherine was given the oncologist's blessing to take it along with chemo.

This is significant, because very few cancer patients will refuse chemotherapy, and this product, reports Katherine Albrecht, made life livable for her.

A radio interview with Katherine, describing her experience with chemo and the coriolus mushroom supplement, is available at this link:
